About This Game

You are earth's last hero - defend civilization from annihilation.

Protect the cities, destroy the aliens and upgrade your fighter. Drive back the vile invading scum and save mankind in this frantic twin-stick shooter!

Gameplay

You pilot a highly manoeuvrable space fighter across a 2d landscape, charged with saving the last remaining human cities from destruction.

With its roots in retro, side scrolling classic arcade games like Defender, Paladin mixes old school gameplay with a modern 360 degree twin-stick control scheme and vibrant vector style glowing graphics.

Each alien killed releases a cash bounty - collect these and upgrade your fighter's abilities at the end of each level. Replenish your shields? Go big on nukes? Max up your standard cannon? The choice is yours.

Features

- 5 different game styles.
- 7 star fighters to pilot - choose your favourite.

- Kill aliens, earn cash and upgrade your craft.
 - Blast your way through waves of asteroids, hunters, drones, spawners, grunts and many, many more.
 - 4 evil end of level bosses to battle along the way.
 - Multiple Achievements to chart your progress throughout the game.
 - Are you hardcore, or just want to chill out? A selection of difficulty levels to match your mood.

Ok so im at home buying this game thinking it would be good right? it seemed like a good game with a good concept.

Buuuuuuut. I fell it just boring i think its just me but theres something missing. Do you like Puppygames' stuff? Titan Attacks, Revenge of the Titans, Droid Assault, Ultratron etc. This is right up that alley. It has the great music, loads of great style, blowing up things up, and being blown up.

You can turn off flashing screen effects, for all of you that don't want to risk a brainwrong, the sweet CRT filter is optional, and so is bloom.

It's basically Defender and Asteroids with upgrades between levels and different classes of ship. It has loads of checkpoints and three difficulty settings, Easy, Normal, and Hard. I've been bashing away on Normal and getting on great while dying a lot, I can imagine Hard being just that.

It's loud sonically and visually. I love it.
